

...New York... Stock Market DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS AFTER RATE DECISION

No Pyrotechnics in Markets, Although Conditions Are Full of Gunpowder.

LIVELY TIME IN PROSPECT

Prices Dull at Opening, Being Succeeded by Burst of Activity That Carry Quotation Up, and Close Is Strong.

BY BROADWAY WALL.

New York, July 4.—There were no pyrotechnics in today's stock market, although conditions are full of gunpowder and a display of fireworks is expected when the Interstate Commerce Commission renders its decision in the rate case...

Additional orders run thus: "Should a favorable decision be rendered while our market is closed, buy 500 Union Pacific Steel." This represents the sum of public sentiment, a lively market in prospect.

Prices were dull at the opening. This was succeeded by a burst of activity that carried quotations up nearly a point. When the market opened, the market grew extremely dull, although quotations did not recede.
